

2021 MARYLAND FBLA REGIONAL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE HONOR CODE - ONLINE OBJECTIVE TESTS

When students log into the online testing system, the Honor Code listed below will appear on their screen for them to read. Upon reading the Honor Code, students will indicate they have read the Honor Code and agree to adhere to it by typing their name on the next screen. They will then be able to complete their objective test.

Students will read the following Honor Code prior to Integrity and honor are integral elements of ethical, responsible leadership. In a community devoted to learning, a foundation of integrity and honor among individuals must exist if that community is to thrive with respect and harmony among its members. Great care must be taken in maintaining academic integrity and honor while preparing students/members for their future careers, and as they grow into future leaders. It is the individual responsibility of every member and local advisor to maintain and enforce these standards. To administer such a high standard across our organization, every competitor must agree and certify to the compliance of the following guidelines for the online objective test you are registered for:

1. The contents of this FBLA-PBL competitive event entry, and any answers or solutions provided, are solely the work of the undersigned competitor.
2. The FBLA-PBL competitive event guidelines related to this event were read and followed, along with any supplemental guidelines for the 2021 Regional Leadership Conference.
3. No help was sought beyond that allowed in any FBLA-PBL competitive event instructions or guidelines; nor any supplemental guidelines created for the 2021 Regional Leadership Conference.
