OBJECTIVES

Competitive events are a by-product of chapter activities. These events are held as a means of motivating interest, thereby improving activities through wholesome and constructive competition. They help to set a high standard of performance for all chapters to follow. Competitive events can be good public relations and can attract and interest not only prospective members but current members as well.

Competitive events should grow out of regular chapter activities. They should attract the majority of the chapter membership. A spirit of cooperation among members within the local and regional groups can be developed while competing. Whether or not a chapter enters an event should be determined by the value of the event to the individual members, to the local chapter, to the region, and to the state.

The leaders of FBLA--local, regional, and state--have a great responsibility in seeing that the proper spirit and attitude is developed toward competitive events. Learning how to win as well as how to lose--good sportsmanship--is important to leadership training. The main value is not gained from winning or losing; rather, the value comes from participating in the activities leading to the event.

CLASSIFICATIONS

Events are divided into four categories: individual, team, chapter and recognition events.

- ◆ A member may enter only one individual or team event and one chapter event with these exceptions:
 - Who's Who. A member nominated for Who's Who in FBLA, which is a recognition event and not a member event, may compete in another event.
 - Recognition Events. A member or chapter may enter any number of recognition events.

Several points deserve specific mention when preparing for event participation.

- ◆ There are many textbook sources utilized in the preparation of test questions for the various competitive events. Sample questions are also available from the National FBLA Marketplace. Participants are urged to prepare by reviewing as many texts as possible. Terminology may vary from one publisher to another and test questions may be from several sources.
- ◆ Reference manuals, textbooks, other resource materials, & electronic devices except for those listed in the guidelines may not be taken to events. Student may not use their own calculators. A non-graphing calculator will be provided in written events.

Special Note

Members whose state and national dues are not paid by December 16, 2015 are not eligible to compete in the regional competitive events program. Students participating in a regional conference or on-line test will be cross-checked with the National FBLA membership database of paid members at the time of registration. You will not be able to register students for competitive events that National FBLA has not received payment for dues by December 16, 2015 as the regional conference registration system operates in real time with and pulls its data directly from the National FBLA membership database. Furthermore, members whose state and national dues are not paid by March 1, 2016 are not eligible to participate in state or national competitive events. Remember, a student in Maryland must join both the state and national associations. There is no option to join the state association or national association only.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

- ◆ Members must adhere to the dress code established by the Board of Directors in order to participate in a competitive event at the conferences.
- ◆ Members must be registered for the conference and pay any related conference registration fees in order to participate in a competitive event.
- ◆ Reference manuals, textbooks, student-supplied calculators, and other resource materials may not be taken to our used during competitive events. Exceptions to this rule are clearly identified in the guidelines for each individual event. If an item is not listed, it is to be assumed that it is not allowed. Individual participants or a participating team must adhere to this event regulation or be disqualified.
- ◆ No audio or video recording devices will be allowed in any competitive event.

ELIGIBILITY GUIDELINES

The competitive event program is provided as a membership benefit for the FBLA (high school) division. Only those students who meet the official membership eligibility requirements of this division and are on record as dues-paid members may compete in this program. Membership in FBLA is unified on the local, state, and national levels and is not available separately. FBLA-PBL members may participate only in the competitive events associated with their affiliated divisions. Events include individual, team, chapter, and recognition. Refer to the “Event Guide for Regional, State, and National Conference” for the specific classification of each competitive event.

A member may enter only one individual or team event and one chapter event with these exceptions:

- Who’s Who. A member nominated for Who’s Who in FBLA, which is a recognition event and not a member event, may compete in another event.
- Recognition Events. A member or chapter may enter any number of recognition events.

Clarification: Members representing their chapters in the oral presentation components of the American Enterprise Project, Community Service Project, or Partnership with Business Project may also compete in one individual or team event.

Recognition events generally are directed toward chapters who have provided outstanding support for FBLA-PBL. In the case that a recognition event involves a member, such participation will not preclude that member from competing in another chapter, individual or team event.

Refer to the individual event descriptions for specific eligibility requirements associated with each event and for the number of competitors that may participate.

The following events are considered to be linked in a series. Once a member has competed at the SLC in the second event, or advanced event in the series, he/she may not subsequently compete in the first, or introductory event. Event series impacted by this regulation include:

- ◆ Accounting I and Accounting II
- ◆ Introduction to Financial Math and Business Calculations
- ◆ Introduction to Business Communication and Business Communication
- ◆ Introduction to Parliamentary Procedure and Parliamentary Procedure
- ◆ Public Speaking I and Public Speaking II

Open Events (NEW for 2016)

Maryland FBLA offers four Open Events at the State Leadership Conference. Any student participating in the SLC is eligible to participate in one Open Event with a limitation of two (2) entries per event, per chapter. There is no prequalification for these events and one award will be issued for each Open Event. Preference for registration should be given to students not currently in a state competitive event. If there is a time conflict at the SLC where the Open Event time is at the same time as a student's scheduled competitive event, the Open Event opportunity will be forfeited.

Eligibility for State and National Conference

The following regulations apply for those eligible to move on from Region to State and State to National.

Region to State Eligibility

1. For performance-only events that allow the top three (3) Regional winners to attend the SLC, the fourth and fifth place Regional winners will be asked to attend if the first, second, or third place winner(s) are not able to attend. Sixth place and below will not be notified or be eligible to compete at the SLC.
2. For individual objective test and team objective test events that allow the top seven Regional winners to attend the SLC, eighth place and below will not be notified or be eligible to compete at the SLC should one of the students or teams in first through seventh place not attend.

Conference Champion Event

The Maryland FBLA Conference Champion trophy is awarded at the State Leadership Conference. This award is given to the local chapter that has excelled at the State Leadership Conference with the most top five awards for all competitive events. Points are awarded for each competitive event using the scale shown below. All written, chapter, and team events are included in the calculation of points. Points are not awarded for these events: Business Person of the Year; Gold Seal Chapter Award of Merit; Largest Local Chapter Membership; LifeSmarts; Microsoft Office Specialist Excel/Word; Open events; Virtual Business Management Challenge; and Who's Who in FBLA. The Board of Directors has the final decision in the event of a tie or any chapter disputes about events. In general, a tie will be broken by awarding the Conference Champion to the chapter with the highest score in the Outstanding Chapter / Chapter of the Year Award. The second tie breaker is if a chapter is a Gold Seal Chapter Award of Merit winner. The third tie breaker is the score on the Local Chapter Annual Business Report.

First Place – 5 points
Second Place – 4 points
Third Place – 3 points
Fourth Place – 2 points
Fifth Place – 1 point

2015-2016 competitive events with Johnson and Wales University scholarships

The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners of Accounting II, Banking & Financial Systems, Business Communication, Entrepreneurship, and Graphic Design at the state level will receive annual scholarships for Johnson and Wales University. The scholarships are renewable each year for four years and are in the following annual amounts: 1st Place = $1,000, 2nd Place = $750, and 3rd Place = $500.

FBLA-PBL WEEK

FBLA-PBL sets aside the second week of February as FBLA-PBL Week. Chapters are encouraged to use this time to publicize their activities and successes, boost their membership, and gear up for their spring activities. In addition, FBLA-PBL recognizes the Wednesday of this week as Adviser Appreciation Day. Members are encouraged to use this day to pay special tribute to the dedicated individuals who make the association possible on the local level.

ACTIVITIES FOR FBLA-PBL WEEK

Each FBLA Chapter is encouraged to plan and implement activities that promote FBLA in their school and local community. The Chapter with the best activities, according to the judges, will be awarded at the State Leadership Conference. Many chapters plan special activities for each day of the week. These include everything from Professional Attire Day to FBLA-PBL T-Shirt Day to Faculty Appreciation Day and Career Awareness Day.

As FBLA-PBL Week coincides each year with National Career and Technical Education Month, this is an excellent time to inform the public about the purpose of school-to-work activities and programs in general. The momentum of a national event provides the perfect occasion to spotlight the value of membership and of career education.

FBLA-PBL Community Service Day

Take the Saturday of FBLA-PBL Week to dedicate solely to community service. Choose a community service project and implement it into your local chapter. As members dedicate their time to this service project, log the amount of time your chapter works by listing each member and hours worked on a spreadsheet.

Suggested activities include working with the March of Dimes, volunteering at a homeless shelter, conducting a blood drive, developing community improvement projects, or developing a project with any other service organization.

CRITERIA

The FBLA-PBL Week activities will be judged on the following criteria:

1. The theme and originality of the activities emphasizes the importance of FBLA.
2. The activities involve members of school, community, businesspersons, parents, and other interested members of the public.
3. Originality.
4. All State and National FBLA dues must be paid prior to the activity.

To enter this event, the chapter must complete an entry form online and upload a report of its activities (report requirements are on the next page). The entry form and report must be submitted by the deadline established in the General Guidelines section of this publication. The link for submitting the online entry form and other event materials is in the Appendix of this document.

The winner will be selected based on the above-mentioned criteria and the quality of the activities, report, and attachments/supporting documentation included in the report.
